Cancellation Policy

Should you need to cancel, our refund agreement reflects the fact that we incur most of the expenses of your event before you arrive. If you won't be able to attend your event, please let us know as soon as possible. In some instances, you may re-assign your attendance to someone else. The Emmerich Group, Inc. will require advance written notification of any changes in the attendee's name and contact information.

All cancellations must be submitted to Office@EmmerichGroup.com. While voicemail will not be an accepted method of cancellation, client members may call and speak to any Emmerich Group team member at 800-236-5885. Cancellation will be considered official from the date written or verbal confirmation is received by The Emmerich Group.
